Write me my own health to Swamp-Root. You may publish this letter for the benefit of people afflicted as I was with the hope of bringing to their attention this most wonderful remedy.

TWO ESCAPED CONVICTS
CAPTURED BY FARMER

Richmond, Va., January 14.—Harry Hamilton, farmer, and E. N. Hanley, highway robber, who with Edkins and Allen Burton, murderers, escaped from the Virginia penitentiary here Monday night, were made prisoners this morning by a farmer near Charlotte, N. C.

Hamilton, 39 miles north of Richmond, by J. J. Sanford, a farmer, armed with a shot gun. When they were taken to the farm, the two men were found to be armed with shot guns and a knife.

Adkins and Burton having been captured Tuesday afternoon near Sabot Island station by railroad men, and returned to the penitentiary, this ends the tale of the daring band, except that each of the convicts will have five years added to his sentence for misbehavior. The farmer got $100 cash for his exploit.

When the name of the next minister it ends with an 'N,' he said.

That Secretary Bryan at that time had a high opinion of Sullivan was evident from a letter placed on the record today by Walker W. Vick, who succeeded Pulliam as receiver general, and who had been acting as such since the present investigation.

The letter, addressed to Vick under date of August 20, 1913, read:

"Now that you have arrived and have acquired the secret with the government, can you let me know what position you desire? Your disposal with which to reward deserving democrats? I have been told that you are a man in regard to a man for any place you desire."

You have had enough experience in politics to know that it is not easy to get a position in the government when the campaign is on, and how difficult it is to find suitable rewards for the deserving. I do not know what can be necessary there, you will find Sullivan a strong, courageous, reliable man. There is a man here of the better satisfied I am that he will fill the place better and do what is necessary to be done."

Very truly yours,
W. J. BRYAN.

Pulliam further testified that he had warned Assistant Secretary of State Osborne in July, 1913, "under no circumstances to have anything to do with the Banco Nacional crowd."

He said he had seen the letter of Frank McIntyre, head of the bureau of customs, to the State Department, and that it was "a very good letter."

"I was surprised and incensed," he said, "to find that the State Department was so easily deceived by Bryan's name. I was sorry to see the State Department so easily deceived by Bryan's name. I was sorry to see the State Department so easily deceived by Bryan's name."

BRYAN ATTACKED

Witnesses at Sullivan Probe
Allege Secretary Named
U. S. Agents in Domingo
at Behest of Certain Interests.

New York, January 14.—Assertions that changes made by the present Washington administration in the personnel of this government's officials in the Dominican republic were due to the influence of interests seeking to exploit that country's finances were made today at the inquiry conducted by Senator William E. Borah, of California, to determine whether James M. Sullivan, the American minister, is fit to hold his post.

Secretary of State Bryan was accused of lending aid in appointing Sullivan to the Samuel M. Jarvis center of New York financiers who controlled the Banco Nacional at Santo Domingo. This institution was alleged to have been an institution without standing on the island, and which sought to obtain the deposit of customs duties whose collection is administered by the United States, and other government funds.

William E. Pulliam, receiver general of the customs at Santo Domingo during the last administration, testified that J. R. Mitchell, president of the Banco Nacional, had published in a Dominican newspaper that W. T. S. Doyle, head of the department of Latin-American affairs in the state department, had been removed on complaint of Mitchell and that Mitchell subsequently had said to him: "I told you so. There'll be several other changes and they'll extend to Santo Domingo."

In June, 1913, Mitchell came to him again, he said, and told him that Russell American minister under Taft, was not returning.

"This is what Mr. Bryan told the senator," testified the witness. "My objection to Pulliam is that he was entirely too friendly to Mitchell."

I said, "Now that your administration has taken office, I am sure you will extend to the Mitchell bank, don't you think?"

He evaded the question by saying, "I have no objection to the Mitchell bank, but I have no objection to the Mitchell bank, but I have no objection to the Mitchell bank."

"Did Mr. Bryan appear to be

Servants who have served in the family for years were present to pay their tribute. Sections of the church were reserved for Mayor Woodward and members of the chamber of commerce delegation of fifty.

Nearly every business house in the city closed during the funeral hour. The county courts and United States district court adjourned for the day, and the flag on the city hall was lowered to half-mast.

In addressing the district court, Judge W. T. Newman said: "When a man like Samuel Inman dies, it is not only a loss to the country, but a loss to the world, and as such, it is a loss to all of us. He was a man of all kinds, including that of the court. He was a man of all kinds, including that of the court. He was a man of all kinds, including that of the court."

Hundreds of telegrams and letters of sympathy continued to arrive Thursday from all parts of the country. The funeral was held at 11 o'clock Thursday, at the city hall, at 1 Peachtree street, was closed for fifteen minutes commencing at 11 o'clock, and at Inman yard, which was named for Mr. Inman, every casket and urn was stopped and every man pined in his work for a period of three minutes.

Inman is Lamented.
The Retail Grocers' and Butchers' association held a meeting and passed resolutions in which they stated that Mr. Inman proved to the world his strength and wisdom as a business man, true Christian and business man.

The executive committee of the board of directors of Oglethorpe university adopted resolutions perpetuating the memory of Mr. Inman forever in the history of that institution, in planning to found a memorial professorship in the university to be called by his name.

Edward T. Ware, president of Atlanta university, pays the following tribute: "Possibly some of Mr. Inman's nearest friends do not realize how wide a circle is affected by his death. He was a friend of the colored people in the sense of the word, and his death has suffered a deep loss in his death."

LEADERS OF ALLEGED BUSINESS DIRECTORY GANG ARE ARRESTED
That four leaders of a notorious gang of business directory swindlers, alleged to have operated extensively all over the country, are now under arrest in Birmingham, Ala., was the assertion Thursday of Dan S. Lemon, manager of the southern division of the William J. Burns detective agency.

Mr. Lemon declares that the four leaders and members of their gang have swindled a large number of business houses of Atlanta, Macon, Savannah, Augusta, Jacksonville, Mobile, Montgomery, New Orleans and other southern cities. They are being held under bonds of $50,000.

EARLY MORNING BLAZE
ENDANGERS NINE LIVES

An early morning blaze Thursday destroyed two Kirkwood residences and imperiled the lives of nine people, including a week-old baby and mother, who barely escaped death by cremation.

The residences were those of Mrs. A. Cochran, 312 Kirkwood avenue, and D. Y. Moore, 310 Kirkwood avenue. The property damage amounted to about $10,000, and was total, nothing being saved from either home by the occupants, except the clothing they fled in from the burning dwellings.

The heroism of Grady Matthews, a boy in the Cochran residence, probably saved the lives of the other occupants of the house. He awoke, discovered his room filled with smoke and flames, but awoke the other occupants in time for them to escape. The origin of the fire, which started in the rear of the Cochran residence, is unknown.

$75,000 IS EXPECTED FOR FAIR AT LAKEWOOD

The finance committee of city council is expected today to reach the appropriation asked for by the chamber of commerce of $75,000 as part working capital for the Southeastern fair grounds at Lakewood.

The committee held a session Thursday morning and afternoon and made good headway in sifting through the various departmental needs and by noon today it expects to reach the Lakewood project.

A canvass of the committee members reveals the fact that virtually every member of the committee is in favor of the project and the matter has resolved itself into a question of sufficient funds on hand, after taking care of imperative appropriations.

An A. W. Faringer, chairman of the committee, pointed out Thursday, after the committee meeting, there will be no doubt that you must remember that the school, fire and police appropriations for this year are nearly $250,000 in excess of those of any other year.

It cannot be denied, however, that the state too strongly the importance of the fair scheme, but the public may be urged upon it that if there is any chance at all, the grant will be made.

Mr. G. Moore, representing the city, said that the plan is an excellent one and no one will boost it more. In the event that the city council approves the project and "O. K." the grant of $75,000 asked for, the county commissioners are ready to put a similar amount and the chamber of commerce is ready to put a similar amount.

Young and Old Will Assist In Selling Belgian Flags

Young and old will assist Mrs. Henry Delive, wife of the Belgian consul, and Mrs. E. M. Horine and their many committee in the sale January 16 of the Belgian flag.

The fact that the fund realized from this sale will be devoted especially toward the care and nourishment of the Belgian babies, many of whom are not only homeless, but fatherless, has made appeal to the human heart of the city.

College Park and Inman Park have also joined in the movement. The student body of the Georgia Military academy, who could not assist in the sale Saturday, have contributed to the cause from their school funds. The girls of the Washington seminary and the Woodberry school have each a committee to work for the success of flag sale. Mrs. A. M. Richardson heads the committee in College Park, and Mrs. E. M. Horine the one in Inman Park. Mrs. Charles A. Simon and Mrs. E. M. Horine have been added to the list of active committees.

Mrs. Frank Pearson and Mrs. Hugh Murray will head a large committee to establish their central office in the new quarters at the Piedmont hotel, and all those selling flags will wear a badge in the Belgian colors, yellow, red and black. Further announcements as to the various places in which flags will be sold will be announced tomorrow morning.

SPENT $10,000 ON WIFE, BUT IT DID NO GOOD
Declares Johnston in Divorce Suit—Tells of Crockery Bombardments.

After having spent $10,000 in peace offerings to his allegedly belligerent wife, Henry C. Johnston yesterday reported to the divorce court, telling the story of crockery and rolling pin bombardments.

A remarkable clause in his petition for total divorce sets out the fact that he could have "stopped the savage onslaughts of his wife had he not deemed it proper to lay hand upon her."

The Johnston has been married twenty-five years. He avers he has spent $10,000 on her during this time in efforts to restore domestic peace. His petition was filed Thursday afternoon.

To Discuss Market Problem At Conference in Albany

Albany, Ga., January 14.—(Special.) Merchants and farmers of southwest Georgia will meet in the chamber of commerce rooms at Albany Thursday, January 23, for a heart-to-heart discussion of the problem of raising and standardizing the marketing of food and feed crops to be raised by Georgia farmers in 1915 on acreage formerly planted to cotton.

If the farmers of Georgia reduce their cotton acreage one-third in 1915, which is by the most conservative estimates, the minimum reduction that will prevent disaster, there will be not less than 1,500,000 acres that must either lie fallow or be planted in food crops. If this land lies idle at least 25,000 farm hands will be forced to seek employment in the cities and towns, which are already overflowing with unskilled labor hunting jobs.

Knowing there is no lack of employment of foodstuffs in Georgia and that the only thing necessary is to divert to Georgia merchants and farmers some of the $150,000,000 usually sent from this state to the northwest for their products, the Georgia Chamber of Commerce has issued this month a pamphlet and farmers at Albany that they may mutually agree—farmers to reduce cotton acreage and plant food crops and the merchants to buy these products in preference to those from other states, quality, preparation for market and price being equal. At this meeting the merchants will be asked to pay a heavy assessment levied by the merchants. The money also has been brought to the attention of General K. H. Smith, of Chicago, who has been asked to appoint delegates to the meeting. Following counties have been asked to appoint delegates: Mitchell, Miller, Early, Baker, Calhoun, Terrell, Lee, Turner, Worth, Cuthbert, Clayton, Quitman and Randolph. It is expected that there will be a large attendance and that the meeting will result in a plan of action to be settled for southwest Georgia, with resultant prosperity for that section in the future.

LOVING CUP GIVEN HICKS AT LUNCHEON BY AD MEN'S CLUB

L. D. Hicks, chairman of the general committee from the Atlanta Ad Men's club, who succeeded so admirably in putting over the Hog and Hominy carnival in Atlanta last fall, was given an splendid luncheon at the Ad Men's club at the chamber of commerce yesterday, when he was presented by his associates with a handsome silver loving cup.

The presentation was made by H. W. Anderson, who responded briefly, warmly thanking his associates, and stating that there were at least as many as ten men connected with the carnival movement who deserved loving cups. There was loud applause for Hicks from the 150 Ad Men and members of the chamber of commerce present.

It was a combination luncheon of Ad Men and members of the chamber of commerce called especially to hear W. E. Taylor, soil expert of the John Deere Plow company. Dr. Taylor delivered a splendid address and one that proved most entertaining even to the business men present. He also made small attention to agriculture.

It was the last of a series of luncheons that the next regular luncheon of the club will be at the Hotel Winifred, Thursday, January 21.

It was the last of a series of luncheons that the next regular luncheon of the club will be at the Hotel Winifred, Thursday, January 21.

It was a combination luncheon of Ad Men and members of the chamber of commerce called especially to hear W. E. Taylor, soil expert of the John Deere Plow company. Dr. Taylor delivered a splendid address and one that proved most entertaining even to the business men present. He also made small attention to agriculture.

BRYAN SENDS PROTEST TO CARRANZA AGENTS

United States Objects to the Threat to Close the Oil Wells at Tampico.

Washington, January 14.—Secretary Bryan has sent a vigorous protest direct to the Carranza authorities at Tampico against their threat to close the great oil wells in that vicinity because the foreign operators refused to pay a heavy assessment levied by the Carranza government. The protest also has been brought to the attention of General Carranza, who has been asked to appoint delegates to the meeting. Following counties have been asked to appoint delegates: Mitchell, Miller, Early, Baker, Calhoun, Terrell, Lee, Turner, Worth, Cuthbert, Clayton, Quitman and Randolph. It is expected that there will be a large attendance and that the meeting will result in a plan of action to be settled for southwest Georgia, with resultant prosperity for that section in the future.

Most of the oil plants are owned by American and British capitalists. There have been several complaints against Carranza's latest assessment, as well as through the interested foreign embassies. Carranza's agents indicated that the money demanded was forthcoming.

Italian Reservists

Playing in Atlanta Before Going Home

Two Italian reservists, on their way to rejoin the Italian army, are doing a musical stunt at downtown theater which has attracted much attention. The two men, who are reservists, are the only ones of their kind in the city.
